The Daily Courant.

Wednesday, June 3. 1713.

From the Hague and Amst. Cour. of June 6.

Warsaw, May 20.

WE are assured that the King has ordered the greatest Part of his Court from Saxony to attend him here, whence 'tis concluded his Majesty will not soon depart this Kingdom. The Imperial Envoy Tiepolo hath desired of his Majesty, that he will send the Troops that served in the Netherlands to the Upper Rhine, and grant a further Number upon certain Terms for the same Service; upon which the King has taken time to consider. The Polish General Rabinski hath given in a particular Relation of what was transacted between him and the City of Dantzick. The Starost Bobrusky Sapieha is on his Journey from Lemberg, to come and make his Submission to the King. The Deputies of divers Districts have besought his Majesty that he will be pleased to assemble the Dyet of the Kingdom.

Vienna, May 24. The Empress hath intimated by Express, that she should arrive at Inspruck as this Day, whither her Mother being gone to meet her, she will abide there some Days, and then proceed on her Journey hither. Publick Prayers are made for a Blessing upon his Majesty's Arms. 'Tis hoped that Prince Eugene will in the beginning of the Campaign find an Opportunity to give the Enemy Battle, he having full Commission to Act as he shall see proper. Some of our former Allies would have our Court believe, that France will abate of her Pretentions in Favour of the two Electors, but little Notice is taken of it, since the time is so near spent, and the Duke of Wirtemberg hath written, that the Enemy is making haste to besiege either Landau or Philipsbourg, with which they pretend to open the Campaign; but those Places are well provided with Garrisons and all Necessaries.

From the Hag. Cour. and Leid. Gaz. June 6.

Hamburg, June 2. Count Steinbock will speedily be going to Flensburg, which Place he hath chosen to be his Prison. He hath written to the Governours of Stralsund and Stetin to send him an exact List of the Prisoners, whether Danish, Muscovite, or Saxon, that are in their Hands, in order to have them exchanged against his Troops who are Prisoners in the Bailliages of Flensburg, Ebernvurde, and Kiel. The three Danish Regiments which were in Garrison at Staden, have received Order to pass the Elbe and come into Holstein; but the Danish Troops who came from the Netherlands are to remain in the Dutchy of Bremen, whither the King will take a Turn assoon as the Muscovites have left Holstein, from whence they are in full March; and after which his Majesty will take up his Residence at the Castle of Gottorp. 'Tis said the Elector of Hanover will send 16000 Men to the Upper Rhine for the Service of the Emperour and Empire, and that his Highness will lend the Emperour a good Sum of Money upon the Securities proposed.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated June 6.

Schafhuysen, May 28. Letters from Zurich mention, that the Cantons have given for Answer to Count Trautmansdorf, upon his Remonstrance concerning the War with France, and his Request that they would give effectual Order to maintain their Frontiers, that they would take care to maintain an exact Neutrality, but they have not declared wherein that Neutrality should consist.
